

Dunboyne, Brooks and Roamer Receive Ovation From 20,000 Racegoers at Aqueduct

ROAMER THREATENS ONE MILE FIGURES

Wins Queens County Over Dull Track in Remarkable Time of 1:36 3-5.

DUNBOYNE TAKES STAKE

As a miler there is no thoroughbred in the country the equal of Andrew Miller's good bay gelding Roamer. He proved this beyond a doubt in the Queens County Handicap at the Aqueduct track yesterday afternoon.

Carrying top weight of 123 pounds, he led home his field in commanding fashion and travelled over the one mile route in the amazing time of 1:36 3-5. Only once before in the history of the old track has this mark been surpassed. That was in 1916, when Emil Herr's imported horse Short Grass ran the distance in 1:36 1-5. Short Grass accomplished his feat on a lightning fast track and shouldered only 117 pounds, while Roamer's performance yesterday was over a track that was dull if not a trifle slow.

Never was the result of the race in doubt. Before the horses went to the post, A. J. Goldsborough, trainer, announced that Roamer would win even if he were compelled to hang up a new record. Because of this and the great showing the gelding made in the Queens County Handicap, which he finished second to George Smith, and in the Brooklyn Handicap, when he pressed cudgel for premier honors, he was made the odds on favorite at 3 to 1. As soon as the barrier arose this looked like a good piece. Roamer sprang into the lead in the first few bounds and skimming the rail all the way sped along at a terrific pace.

Roamer Maintains Lead.

Entering the home stretch he was three lengths in front of his field, and although he was ridden out to stall off a belated rush by Tom McTaggart he never lost sight of his lead. McTaggart took the second part of the purse while Hand Grenade was third. Veteran turfmen who saw the contest declared that if Mr. Miller's gelding had been forced to his extreme, he would have beaten Short Grass's figure and threatened the American record of 1:35 4-5, made by Anahit in Syracuse a decade ago.

In view of the remarkable time made by Roamer, the Queens County was the feature of the day's sport, but it was the Great American, a five furlong dash for juveniles, that appealed most to the 18,000 racegoers who crowded their way into the track. In it P. A. Clark's Dunboyne, ridden by Joe Byrne, defeated one of the best fields of youngsters that have started in a race this season.

Dunboyne ran like a high class colt and took down the $6,000 purse by a length and a half. He was second and Harry A. Porter's High Time was third.

Ignored Hogan's Tip.

"I fear no man's horse," said Bill Hogan, trainer of Dunboyne, as he was boosting Jockey Byrne into the saddle. "This fellow is a speed marvel and he'll win by himself."

But most of the racegoers remembered similar remarks from Hogan before races in which his horses were badly beaten, and paid little or no heed to his tip. All were right, however, for Dunboyne had run two good races at Belmont Park while suffering from back shins, but they didn't believe he was capable of taking into camp such renowned youngsters as High Time, who smashed the track record earlier in the week, and Walter Jefford's Routledge, the Cacao Stables' Different Eyes and E. A. Fanning's Lightning. A crowd of thousands gathered to see the race and the experts the race was among them.

But Hogan was right. Dunboyne was the best colt displayed at a world of speed as soon as the flag dropped when he challenged in the stretch showed remarkable gameness. At the end he was not only a head and a half in front of a half a dozen lengths in front of High Time. High Time shouldered the heavy impost of 125 pounds, and the crowd of thousands gathered to see the race and the experts the race was among them.

George Walls Injured.

While riding Questionnaire in the Great American, George Walls, the popular little rider employed by J. J. Fitzsimmons, was struck in the right eye by a piece of stone and painfully injured. The accident prevented him from fulfilling his engagements in the subsequent races, but Mr. Fitzsimmons said that under medical care the jockey will be able to ride again in a day or two.

The Windfield Steeplechase resulted in an easy victory for Capt. Joseph E. Davis's Brooks. He is fond of the Aqueduct track, over which he hung up a new record last year, and the fact that his trials were exceptionally fast made him the favorite over St. Charlotte, last year's champion. Herbert L. Pratt's Trumpeter and Mr. Knapp's Plumpall finished second and Wise Man third.

With Chess Players

Many leading metropolitan chess players who did not compete last year for the State championship at Rochester will take part in the tournament to be held at the present time. The present time holder, who has his hands full to defend his laurels. In addition to the trophy there will be first prizes of the value of $10, $25, $35 and $10, besides consolation money for the non prize winners. The programme will also include a general tournament for three classes of players, with two prizes in each section. The meeting will be open to all players of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New England. Entries can be filed with L. C. Carter, P. O. Box 120, New York.

Halpine Leads Home Big Pack in Red Cross Run

Morningside A. C. Lad Also Captures Fast Time Prize and His Club Takes Team Trophy in Chase on Staten Island.

Terry Halpine yesterday carried the sticks of the Morningside A. C. to victory in the six and a half mile road handicap that featured the Staten Island Red Cross athletic and swimming carnival at Midland Beach. The course took the runners from in front of the City Hall at St. George over the main streets of the island to the board walk at Midland Beach, where the finish line was stretched.

Borough President Calvin Van Name fired the shot which sent the sixty-five runners on their way, and the pair ran a tough one, only two lads failed to finish. Both dropped out at the half way mark. Halpine, who had a 1.15 allowance, ran a corking race and finished as fresh as the proverbial daisy. Besides defeating a select field for first place, the sturdy Morningside lad also carried off the fast time honors. Halpine completed the distance in 35 minutes 5 seconds, eighteen seconds faster time than was made by his closest rival, Willie Kyronen.

Powers Is Second.

Frank Powers of the Mohawk A. C. ran a good race for the 4.45 mark, but Halpine, who led the Mohawk runner to the tape by twenty yards. W. Robinson, another Mohawk lad, who had the same allowance as Powers, finished third, about fifteen yards behind his club mate. Fourth place went to Peter Zabludofsky of the Morningside A. C., who had a handicap of 4.30. J. J. McCallan, another Morningside runner, was fifth.

Robinson, who went away with the limit time, took the lead at the two and

LOOKED LIKE OLD TIMES ON HARLEM

Despite War "Mets" Hold Annual Regatta and Keen Contests Ensnue.

It looked a lot like old times at the Metropolitan Rowing Club on the Harlem yesterday, where members and friends gathered for the thirty-eighth annual club regatta and ladies' day. War has thinned the ranks of the Mets, but many of the old boys were on hand and brought along the best girls of the fellows "over there."

The eight oared shell race produced a thrilling duel between crews No. 1 and No. 2, the first named boat sliding across home waters less than half a length to the good. Those who were in the winning boat were L. A. Jones, E. A. Black, T. Zill, J. A. Berner and E. A. Burns.

Kyronen Twenty-sixth.

On account of the excessive handicap Willie Kyronen, the crack Milwaukee A. runner, could do no better than finish twenty-sixth. The flying Finn captured the second fast time prize by finishing in 25 minutes 22 seconds from scratch. The other fast time prize went to Eddie Mayo, the former Brooklyn A. boy, who now competes for the Fort Schuyler Hospital Corps.

Two Races on Beach.

In addition to the road run two foot races were held on an improved track laid out on the beach. J. Nolan of the Bronx Church House, with a handicap of 40 yards, won the half mile race. Walter Powers, of the Alpha Physical Culture Club took third place from off the back mark of 5 yards. Jack Sellers of the New York A. C. won the 200 yard dash, the only other track event, was won by E. H. Hoser, an unattached athlete, in 11 seconds.

Decided At The 19th.

Two Long Matches Feature Golf at Plainfield C. C. H. H. Craig and D. H. Barrows had to play nineteen holes to win their match. The results: H. H. Craig, 18; D. H. Barrows, 19. H. H. Craig defeated H. L. Forrest 18 to 19. H. H. Craig defeated H. L. Forrest 18 to 19. H. H. Craig defeated H. L. Forrest 18 to 19.

MINEOLA AVIATORS ROUT THE MARINES

Sea Soldiers Rally in Eighth, but Finish on Wrong End, 4 to 2.

STUBBING FANS FIFTEEN

The Mineola Aviators, who last week humbled the Pelham Naval Reserves and still were thirsting for more, routed the Marines yesterday and rombed a 4 to 2 victory out of the Marines from the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

The victory largely came about through Stubbing, the Mineola baseball ace, who used to pitch for the Cleveland Americans. The big right hander led the Soldiers of the Sea down with five hits, fanned fifteen and acted like a village out in general. Among other things he jolted his pitching rival, Goodnight, for a home run.

Though defeated, the Marines were not disgraced. They put up a scrappy exhibition that was a credit to the famous bunch of the service who represent the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

The team of the Marines was picked from only 300 men. The Aviators had ten times that number to comb for a team to play the Marines on the field. The Marines were Snover, who used to play for the New York State League and Erie of the Interstate League, included on the Mineola team were former Big League Stubbing, "Tillie" Walker, who used to be on the Brooklyn Federals, Wedge from San Antonio and Brown from Dallas of the Texas League. Capt. J. J. Jones, a former Leaguer, and Sergeant Allen, a University of Maine star.

Marines Fight Hard.

On paper the Aviators outclassed the Marines four ways from the door. The "First to Fight" boys, however, battled like gamecocks and died with their boots on. They knew what they were up against right from the start, when Stubbing fanned the first five men to face him. The Marines stuck grimly to their posts and broke out with a courageous rally in the eighth. Stubbing spiked their guns after two runs had been battered across. The drive, however, at least saved the Marines from the ignominy of a shutout.

The game was staged for the purpose of obtaining funds to purchase athletic equipment for the boys over there. About $1,500 was obtained and will be forwarded to the National Aeronautic Society. About 3,000 persons witnessed the fray, cheered the players and tried to make life miserable for the umpires, Leuts. Burke and Galbraith.

Aviators Start Bombing.

The Aviators bagged their first bird in the third without the semblance of a hit. With one down Hubbard walked and the Aviators started to bombard him at second was wild and permitted him to reach third. He came the rest of the way when Snover, backing up the play, let the ball roll through him. Walker doubled to fourth and was singled home by Wall.

With one down in the fifth Stubbing lashed a liner into left. It was a savage blow and the Navy players were discomfited. Stubbing forced Motimer and the drive was stopped. The score: Aviators 4, Marines 2.
